ADVANTAGES OF OUR SOLUTION

The basic advantage of our solution is the interconnection of products within a single database. By implementing our products you get a comprehensive solution of all HR department agendas. No data imports and exports are necessary. Individual applications get the data from a common database. By using access rights you can divide rights for individual users. The programmes can be used independently and you can make use of a large number of data bridges (data import and export) to systems provided by other producers. We develop the hardware for attendance, access and cafeteria systems, thus enabling maximal use and interconnection of hardware and software.
